Thursday 12th September 2019

We are learning to plan our writing by identifying the audience and purpose, selecting the appropriate form and using other similar writing as models.

Issue 127 5 September 1939

Weirworld News reported by B and L

Frantic Evacues

Weirworld is a self running small town with only a population of 2000 people. Weirworld is quite big compared to other villages but is still very quite small. It still has hundreds of evacuees invaded our village and many others!

Since the war broke out, Hitler has been raining hell on London and our villages! So now the London government are sending kids to Weirworld while we still have our own problems in the war. Weirwold and many other villages are having to build children centers and home to accommodate the children as we are running out of room for them!

Now we have described this dire situation lets hear from the locals. First we will get the opinion of a citizen. "I think this is very bad as the people the more bombs the more deaths!" said Now we will here the Shop keepers opinion. "I think this is good for us because I am getting a pay rise but if things get any worse we might even starve!

Now we will interview a couple of evacuees. "How do you feel about the situation?" said the reporter "I feel scared as I am going to be living with a stranger for who knows how long it and they could be mean."