

Dear Earth,

Since as no volcano have erupted recently, I was 99% concerned that you have forgotten how to make volcano explode. I have written some instruction below if you could listen to the instruction that would be great. You need to move the tectonic so the magma can escape through the gap. When the magma which has escaped settles on the earth the magma cools and turn to volcanic rock.

Magma from mantle get hot and rises

