We are learning to structure our ideas.

Dear Diary,

Life got so exciting like a fizzy pink cloud but then lightning struck!

This morning I woke up and remembered that we were going on a magnificent ship. I had never been so excited in my whole life. We were going to the one of a kind London. My dear Abilene was so so terribly sad to leave Pelgrina whilst I was overjoyed to leave her. She always looked right into my eyes and it always sends a shiver down my spine. As the ship sailed away, Pelgrina got smaller and smaller until she was nothing. She would be gone for a long time, forever I hoped.

Life aboard the ship is ~~sp of~~ ^{amusing} ~~foot~~ very fun for me. Two ^{angry} girls kept on glancing at me. So until they all came up to me and Abilene and asked if they could hold me! Abilene just answered "Sorry, I'm afraid Edward is not the sort of bunny that likes to be held by strangers." A couple of hours later ^{later} an old elderly woman will ^{pearls} said "That's a pretty rabbit." "Thank you very much!" answered Abilene.

20.11.2019 Suddenly I heard two horrendous voices coming near me but I just ignored them and sunbathed on my deck chair. One disgusting voice shouted "Can he wind up?" No said Abilene "What's the point of him then?" Answered the other boy. "The point is that he's Edward!" Said Abilene. "That's much much of a point" said the boy "No it isn't" agreed the other boy. & Just at that moment I felt a big claw coming over me and going into someones grubby hands.

I was paying attention now! One ^{of the} boys said "Can his clothes come off?" "Of course they can." Said Abilene. With that, all my clothes were were tor off! My face went as red as a tomato and my cheeks went soo-soo pink. Once all my clothes off, I heard one of the boys say "Look he's even got underwear!" A second after they tor ^{it} off and into the ^{free} ^{cold} ^{water} sea. I suddenly felt myself being tyed into the air and chucked from boy to boy until Abilene headbutted one of the boys and missaired. I went flying thro the air and landed in the sea! I suddenly saw three shadows coming towards me. ~~Wh The shadows~~

What could they be?
