We are learning to write our own adventure stories, including characters, setting and plots

I am Sir Malcom Jones, (The ^{Governor} government) and before I tell my ^{dramatic} story, you will have to hear my ^{curious} childhood first: It was 1972 and I was ^{only} 3 years old. I ^{It started} was in my ^{bed} cot and ~~Bang~~ And suddenly there was a Bang!...

I looked around and my father's car had been replaced by an asteroid of some sort. Creeping out of the smoking hole I could see one bulging eye and ~~two~~ countless arms of an enormous cockroach. His head touched a full ~~any~~ circle and ^{finished it sailing} spotted me. ~~Not~~ Not thinking, I ~~to~~ poured down the stairs, my heart was racing like the wind. Everything was silent.

I ~~looked at the garden in~~ The next morning, I found myself still in the compound. I ran outside and the crater was still outside but no alien. ~~Because~~ Because there was no evidence. ^{No one} ~~No one~~ believed me. ~~Not until~~ now...

It had been reported that yesterday a manned rocket has been launched from Northern China. The aircraft entered high speed ~~and~~ into deep space. As well as this dilemma - which could not get any worse - people have disappeared. What are we meant to do?

Well, I have an answer. I decided to make a secret organisation to fight any crime around this problem. To choose the men we had to break it down. ~~or~~ First, we ^{needed} had to find the most tough war men to that have the ability to ~~to~~ ~~from~~ back whatever hits them. Then we put them through a series of questions of who ~~to~~ you would hit or

What brings suspicion. Most of the questions were based on aliens since I think they are under this.

Little did I know what they were hiding.

Once the men were chosen, we trained them to be prepared for anything - and it is a good job we did. One month later, we were searching the dump and something erupted from the ground. First a two needle sharp claws followed by two slim, bony arms with ~~as~~ a strange sort of ~~the~~ slime ~~used for~~ dripping from him like he had been drenched in water. Then came a head with ~~was~~ two bulging eyes. This is what got me thinking. Where had I seen it before. It was the same creature as the one I had seen before! As I gasped in amazement, it was the same alien from all those years ago.

When he ~~toats~~ revealed the rest of his body he also let out a ~~two~~ terrible smell. ~~Except for that he~~ ^{He was armed with a powerful gun} ~~was armed with a gun~~. However, the gun was plugged in. ~~As~~ The second he saw us, he struck our youngest member. ~~He~~ He had no hope. All of the troop headed for the alien but I had a different plan, I unplugged the gun. Just in time too - the horrendous thing tried to shoot his gun, but nothing came out.

The alien surrendered. I ~~of~~ was good with joy. But then I heard a deep voice saying.

'I will never ~~see~~ leave this planet!'

So I replied: You can live here if you bring no harm to humans. And he kept his promise until today. ^{Now} And we are known as the Men in Black.
