L.O. We are learning to use conjunction.

Today I was happy because ~~everything~~<sup>everything</sup> was going ~~what~~ <sup>as</sup> I ~~expected~~<sup>expected</sup> but suddenly a strange man came out of the ~~direction~~<sup>distance</sup> he was called Cassius and he was furious.

He was an important general. What time is it? Quick we're running out of time we need to run before Cassius gets <sup>too</sup> angry that he ~~will~~<sup>will</sup> hurt us. So run. I don't want to kill my good friend Caesar. ~~Caesar~~<sup>however</sup> ~~he~~ is horrible (big) man he has a ruthless head. Cassius and Caesar are like a little poisonous snake. I am worried about them being horrible to Rome. Before the snake <sup>gets</sup> out of its shell Caesar is becoming more getting powerful.

Tomorrow Caesar will be king said Cassius to ~~brutus~~<sup>me</sup> and he will be a (big) tyrant.
